

STUDIO SPOTLIGHT: ROBIN HILL

IBIS IN A SWAMP CYPRESS, WATERCOLOR AND GOUACHE, 40" x 27"

We recently caught up with Robin Hill, a busy, brilliant wildlife painter.

“I’ve just completed a commission piece (above), which was great fun to create. I am now in a mammal-mode—working on a commission of two dogs and then two cats will follow. And, before Christmas, I plan to paint some bluebirds. When time allows, I’m inspired to paint an elegant, almost monochromatic, still life that I have in mind. Another thought is to make very limited edition prints of a couple of my paintings.

After a summer painting in Maine, I am in Washington this fall until we go to Costa Rica, where I hope to see macaws and monkeys. So, one continues to be engaged and busy.”

Contact us to schedule a private studio tour and meeting with Robin.

More about Robin

Video interview

Available work and pricing

Artist’s website

studio  partners

Recognized as a “gallery alternative” in the Washington Business Journal, Studio E Partners hosts open studio events, lectures and pop-up exhibits and offers in-home consultations for the artists we represent. If this approach to art appeals to you, please contact us.

WWW.STUDIOEPARTNERS.COM

